RESERVATION TO BE OPENED

the question comes up next time in tongress, the indications are that there rongress, the indications are that there will be found fighting vigorously for ts opening all the forces of the Gould tystem, the Harriman interests and the Morgan-Hill syndicate. Each of these alone is powerful, and combined they make a tremendous force in aid of he cause favored by Senator Rawlin, and Senator Kearns.

The active interest of George J. Gould in this subject, so important to the development of Utah, is a result of his visit to the state. While here Mr. Gould made careful inquiries into the resources of the reservation and the chances for getting it opened. He talked the matter over with President E. T. Jeffery of the Rio Grande, General Manager Russell 'Harding of the Missouri Pacific and the other officials with him, and finally declared strongly for working to get the reservation opened. President Jeffery is enthusiastically in favor of the movement to get this rich mineral and agricultural territory opened up, as are the other officials of the Rio Grande roads. other officials of the Rlo Grande roads. While the Harriman interests are not directly interested in the reservation territory, they are indirectly interested in anything tending to build up the state, while Mr. Harriman is a director in the Denver & Rlo Grande, and his close association with Mr. Gould will enable the latter to secure the aid of the powerful Union Pacific influence at Washington.

The Morgan-Hill syndicate is interested because the proposed Burlington

3

Purchase of Great Western.

Purchase of Great Western.

A New York dispatch says the Chicago Great Western is to be taken over by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. The reliability of this information is not assured, but if the deal is made western trafficmen will breathe a sigh of relief. The Great Western has always been a disturbing factor in freight rates, having started more than one rate war. If the road can be drawn in by the "community of interests" it is believed that rates will be better maintained.

OTHER RAILWAY MAGNATES

WILL TAKE A HAND.

Powerful railroad interests have been enlisted in behalf of the opening of the Unitah Indian reservation. When the question comes up next time in the question comes up next time in the duestion comes up next time in the first meeting of the campaign last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Gallagher on Fifth East

Mr. McKeen's Denial.

(Special to The Herald.)
Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 24.—Master Mechanic McKeen of the Union Pacific deries the report that he is to be transferred to Omaha and that Forence Williams of Campa Learney Williams. transferred to Omaha and that Foreman Wilkinson of Grand Island will be brought here: also that Foreman Alex Stewart of Evanston will replace Master Mechanic Sprigs at Denver. If these changes have been contemplated by the Union Pacific, he has heard nothing about the matter, says Mr. McKeen. It is understood that Master Mechanic McKeen has inaugurated a number of reforms in the local shops and on the Wooming tilvision, and these would probably not be authorized were any changes to be made.

Opening of Denver Gateway.

Opening of Denver Gateway.

Following the example of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company, the Oregon Short Line has issued a circular opening the Denver gateway to passenger traffic. The Southern Pacific circular to a like effect has not yet made its appearance in Salt Lake, but it is understood that the circular will soon be issued, if it has not already been sent out.

The effect of this circular, as previously pointed cut, is to allow agents of the O. R. & N., Short Line and Southern Pacific to route passenger business over the Rio Grande roads to Denver and thence east over the Union Pacific, Heretofore a traveler buying a ticket castward to a Union Pacific point was obliged to take that road the entire distance east of Ogden.

The strained in the state of a state of the state of the rial, while the improvements on the main line of the Union Pacific this side of Evanston will also require a large amount of rails. IS SHOWN UP

MR. LEARY'S GOOD SPEECH HAZING IS NOW

The Democrats of the First precinct held the first meeting of the campaign last evening at the home of Mr. and street, and the candidates were given a hearty greeting by the people of that vicinity who crowded into the parlors. The home was beautifully decorated with flags, there was good music and at the close nice refreshments were served.

The meeting was called to order by John Gallagher, jr., and John Siddohe attended the primary imbued with the idea that for the fair fame of the city the Democrats should put up for office the very best men to be found in its ranks. "The idea of being a candidate myself," he said, "never entered my head. But since the party in convention saw fit to nominate me, thinking I would make a good mayor, I consider it my duty to get around among the people, and give them a chance to pass judgment upon me."

He said that the Republicans of the city do not endorse the administration; that it will be beaten by its own people, not because they want to vote for Jim Leary, not because they have ceased to be Republicans, but because they are ashamed of the record made by the men now in office and intend to vote for the enforcement of the laws, for decency, order and economy. He pledged himself to carry out the provisions of the platform and the demands of the reform league to the letter.

Stephens Endorses Platform.

Allowy Notes.

The Retirement of the process of the state of the control of the c

First precinct Republicans rallied in the Ninth ward meeting house annex last night under the auspices of George A. Smith. The affair was very enjoyable and was voted one of the earliest and most sweet and the second of the earliest and most sweet and the second of the earliest and most sweet and the second of the earliest and most sweet and the second of the earliest and most sweet and the second of the earliest and most sweet and the second of the earliest and most sweet and the second of the earliest and the second of the earliest and most sweet and the second of the earliest and most sweet and the second of the earliest and most sweet and the second of the earliest and most sweet and the second of the earliest and the second of the question was out of the question was consent reluctantly given to for General Buller's disminst the second of the question was out of the question was out of the question was consent reluctantly given to for General Buller's disminst part of the question was ont of the question was consent reluctantly given to for General Buller's disminst part of the question was ont of the question was consent reluctantly given to for General Buller's disminst part of the question was consent reluctantly given to for General Buller's disminst part of the question was consent reluctantly given to for General Buller's disminst part of the question was consent reluctantly given to for General Buller's disminst part of the question was consent reluctantly given to for General Buller's disminst part of the question was consent reluctantly given to for General Buller's disminst part of the question was out of the question was out of the question was out of the question was consent reluctantly given to for General Buller's disminst part of the question was one of the question was of th formal reception on the stage after the meeting, and then introduced Elmer B. Jones, who attacked the Democrats and the Democratic platform. Before the meeting was over, every candidate present, including the mayor, Dick Whittemore, Joe Mattom, George Nye, Chris Diehl, H. S. Tanner and others, got up and made a bow to the audience to "get closer in touch," and said, "Vote the Republican ticket." "Longbranch" Cummings delivered a few remarks. John James favored the audience with "Love's Old, Sweet Song," and the meeting closed. FORCED FALL OF GEN, BULLER erick With the King.

BLUFF OLD SOLDIER.

New Order of Affairs at the West New York, Oct. 24.-Interesting de-

New Order of Affairs at the West Point Academy,

Washington, Oct. 24.—The most important feature of the annual report of Colonel A. L. Mills, superintendent of the military academy, relates to the measures taken for the suppression says:

"The discipline of the corps of cadets has greatly improved during the year.

"The discipline of the corps of cadets has greatly improved during the year to superintendent of the military acade during the year to cadet was been attained by firm adherence to the measures adopted during the year to the measures adopted during the year to read a more painful disable to the measures adopted during the year to read a more painful disable to the measures adopted during the past three years to create among the cadets as a ligations, in particular, those pertaining to hazing."

He then reviews what has been done, mentions the criticisms passed upon mentions and the present community of the passed to the measures adopted during the past three years to create among the cadets and an audience with him at Mariyara than the community of the passed to the measures adopted during the past three practiced, it is a fact that the great majority of cadets have obeyed the new cadet training has made exceptional progress. One cadet was selenged in the past three progress of the cadet instructors of the cade instructors of the Roberts Threatened to Resign.

Then Lord Roberts and Mr. Broderick put their heads together and waited for the instant of the king's return to London to lay before his majesty the alternative of Buller's dismissal critheir resignation.

It was by no means a pleasant interview. At first the king refused point blank to countenance any such drastic proceeding. He defended Buller right and left and declared that such a provoccation as anonymous attacks was sufficient warrant for such an explosion on the part of the bluff old soldier, but Lord Roberts and Mr. Broderick were equally stubborn.

Lord Roberts and mr. Broderick were equally stubborn.

Lord Roberts threatened to resign instanter unless a royal mandate were fissued for Buller's official decapitation. To this Mr. Broderick also added his intention to relinquish the seals of the war office.

The latter threat would have not weighed for a moment with the king, but "Bobs" popularity is a different matter. His majesty used every effort to induce the commander-in-chief to reconsider his determination. Only when he finally discovered that this was out of the question was the royal consent reluctantly given to the order for General Buller's dismissal.

BUREAU TO BE CREATED

SAYS NOYES WAS IN CONSPIRACY

Influence of Roberts and Brod- He and Others Planned to Secure Nome Mines.

THEY THREATENED TO RESIGN THOSE WHO WERE IMPLICATED

THING OF PAST EDWARD'S SYMPATHY WITH USED HIS POSITION AS JUDGE TO FURTHER HIS ENDS.

> San Francisco, Oct. 24.-In the Nomontempt case investigation before oday Attorney E. S. Pillsbury, in his Noyes and others to obtain posses of a number of mines near Nome

Samuel Dunham, the original locato Samuel Dunham, the original locator of the Topkuk mines, was on the stand. He testified that in May, 1900, after the Topkuk mines had been jumped by about 250 men, he had a conversation with Judge Noyes relative to proceedings in ejectment, which he desired the United States attorney to begin. Continuing Dunham said:

United States attorney to begin. Continuing, Dunham said:
"Judge Noyes told me that Archie K. Wheeler, a young man who he had taken to Nome to serve as his private secretary, was a very efficient attorney and was going to resign his position and hang out his shingle as an attorney. Judge Noyes recommended the young man, who told me that he could obtain possession of the claims in less than forty-eigh hours. I was with Captain Anderson and we talked with Mr. Wheeler, who said he would take the case for a half interest in the property, as had been done in a previous case. I remarked that the consideration was exorbitant, whereupon he agreed to take one-eighth interest."

Will Show Conspiracy.

Will Show Conspiracy.

The witness told of seeing a pencil draught of the contract which had been entered into by Captain Anderson on behalf of the owners of the mine, and was about to continue his narrative when Attorney Heney interrupted by asking Attorney Pillsbury just who Mr. Pillsbury hoped to connect with the alleged conspiracy. Mr. Pillsbury answered:

answered:
"By the testimony of this witness I intend showing that Archie Wheeler got into the case through Judge Noyes; that Alexander McKenzie, by his influence with the court, was appointed receiver for the mines; that Judge Noyes, Alexander McKenzie, R. L. Stevens, Archie Wheeler and others were engaged in a conspiracy to obtain this valuable property."
"Who are the others?" asked Attorney Heney.

"Who are the others?" asked Attorney Heney.
"That," replied Mr. Pillsbury, with a smile, "will come out later."
C. S. Johnson, a former United States attorney and judge of Alaska, testified to calling on Judge Noyes and requesting him to sign a bill of exceptions to a decision which was adverse to the claimants, whom he represented, and also fix a bond.
"After we discussed the matter," said the witness, "Judge Noyes refused to either sign the bill of exceptions nor would he fix a bond. I told Judge Noyes that we could give a bond amounting to $500,000, but the judge said he would not remove McKenzie as receiver of the mines or deprive McKenzie of any power whatever."

Noyes' Name Bandied With.

"I told Judge Noyes that a deep conspiracy existed to obtain possession of the mines; that McKenzie had obtained a one-third interest in the mines and that his (Judge Noyes') name was being bandied about as being connected with the conspirators. Judge Noyes declared that he could not permit any reflection on the court and that he would not permit the disclosure.

"After the arrival of the opinion of the circuit court of appeals in the McKenzle case I called upon Judge Noyes," the witness proceeded. "The judge remarked that they (meaning the circuit court of appeals of the Ninth district) had everything their own, but it was time for him (Noyes) to fight. Judge Noyes declared that the opinion had one effect at least, and that was the removal of the court from San Francisco, 'where the cases are tried by the press.' Judge Noyes said that the United States government should never permit a judge like Ross (who rendered the opinion) to remain upon the bench."

PASSENGER TRAIN GOES OVER HIGH EMBANKMENT

A LESSON IN VALUES.

OLLAR for dollar, pound for pound, there is more in Ivory Soap than in any household soap. It is easy to find a cheap soap; but to find purity and low price in a single soap is not easy. They combine in Ivory Soap. You can afford to use it in the laundry; you can not afford not to use it elsewhere. It is vegetable-oil soap, in the cheapest form in which it can be procured. You pay nothing for a fancy box, wrapper or perfume. It is all in the soap! It floats.

HOTEL GOSSIP.

"Well," declared the Californian,
'this is the first suggestion of home
that I have encountered since I left 'Frisco. I guess I'll put up here a few days and feel like old times."

And as he made arrangements for a four days' stay, Mr. Porter is beginning to regard his innovation as a special courtesy to Golden Gate visitors.

cial courtesy to Golden Gate visitors.

B. R. Jones, a descet nt of the famous Jones who "paid the freight," is a guest of the Kenyon, after having covered 250 miles by coach in an endeavor to separate the merchants from their money in exchange for "ropes," to quote himself. Mr. Jones has visited Salt Lake City semi-annually for years in the cigar trade, and is making his last visit in the capacity of a drummer. He is about to locate in business at Tonopah, Nev. and was given a warm farewell by local saloon keepers, hotel men and cigar dealers yesterday.

"Tonopah is one of the coming centers of business of this entire section," said Mr. Jones last evening. "I am so impressed with the prospects that I am going to settle down there, abandon the road and make some of the Knights of the sample case wait on my pleasure, for a change."

Hotel Arrivals.

Power for Coeur D'Alene Mines

Little Folks. What kind to buy is the qu tion that worries the aver mother. Come to us e'll he you out-we'll point out the

